

ALL AMERICAN

Its growth has been rapid

THE accompanying charts and graphs demonstrate graphically the steady growth of All American Aviation, since inauguration of Air Pick-Up on an experimental basis in 1939. In the following years of regularly scheduled service, Air Pick-Up has proven itself a permanent fixture in commercial aviation.

The economic value of Air Pick-Up is fully shown by the chart at the right, indicating the excess of postal revenues in the past three years over payments to All American Aviation for the same period.

With such a background of dependability and economy, Air Pick-Up will continue to expand steadily. The service which All American is already bringing to cities and towns in six Middle Atlantic states will be extended to other communities which need the benefits of air mail service without the expense of main line airport operation.
